"If I Could Tell You One Thing...": The Best Advice I Ever Received Panel Discussion

Professionals from academia, industry, and government share their stories, job insights, and offer the best wisdom that was given to them in their careers.

Three-Minute Pitch

The Three-Minute Pitch challenges students and young professionals to present a compelling oration on their recent work/ideas and its significance.

Best Poster Award

The best poster presented during the interactive poster session by young professionals or students will be selected. In special cases, it is possible to have more than one winning poster. The winner(s) will receive an award.

Accessibility Walking Tour

See our transportation system from an accessibility perspective. We'll look at how to incorporate accessibility into design, key issues, common pitfalls, and available resources.

Best Poster Award

During the ICTD 2018 Conference, the Committee of Young Professionals and Student Activities will select the best poster presented during the interactive poster session. In special cases, it is possible to have more than one winning poster. The winner(s) of the Best Poster Award is announced by the end of the conference.

Why compete in the best poster presentations?

Meet peers from all over the world in the ICTD conference, advertise what you are doing, and excite the professional society. The winner will receive $300.

Who's eligible to compete?

Registered ICTD attendees who present throughout the entire poster session, and are undergraduate or graduate students by April 30, 2018 or are young professionals under 34 years old by July 31, 2018.

How to participate (or any questions):

Eligible young professionals and students are automatically enrolled to compete for the poster award. Questions can be directed to one of the two YM Committee co-chairs, and include 'ICTD poster award' in the email subject line."
